Diversity, Equity & Inclusion

- Dr. Jennifer L. Eberhardt, PhD. Is a social psychologist with Stanford University working with the psychological association between race and crime. Please view the following TED Talk:
 - o How racial bias works – and how to disrupt it -> Key messages are as follows:
 - CDC reports that 36% of the country's population belongs to a racial or ethnic minority group.
 - Technology can be a supportive tool when used appropriately. Next Door App developed to allow neighbors to communicate with one another on one platform. The app soon realized they had an issue with racial profiling. To address this, they worked with Dr. Eberhardt and added friction to slow people down. The friction is developed in the form of a check list that asks the individual the following questions:

- Pause and think – what was the person doing that caught your attention?
- Describe the person – what are their physical features. Exclude race/ethnic descriptions
- Review the definition of racial profiling. Understand it is not tolerated.
- We can interrupt bias by pausing and reflecting.
- Region 2 AAA, Martha York shared they are hosting workshops related to Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion. If you are interested, please contact Region 2 or Martha York.

Quality of Life for Older Adults:

Department on Aging – Cari Rebottaro:

- Adrian Senior Center has now started offering outdoor physical activity classes and drive through health screenings.
- A significant challenge being experienced is identifying a way to offer the Senior Lifestyle Expo while adhering to Governor and local orders related to COVID-19. If anyone is interested in participating in these developments, please contact Cari.

Opioid Addiction and Abuse:

HRSA RCORP Planning – Lenawee Opioid Response Project

- 8 project based work groups continue to meet. The groups are focusing efforts on transitioning from planning into implementation of the LSAPC Opioid related strategic plan.
