

Lenawee RICC

Working to Benefit those with Disabilities...
Make a Difference!

The Lenawee County RICC is a local, grassroots group of people with developmental disabilities, their friends, family members, and advocates, who work to be an effective means of changing local systems and the way communities interact with people with disabilities.

RICC stands for Regional Interagency Consumer Committee. There are about 50 RICCs throughout Michigan and they keep the Michigan Developmental Disabilities Council informed about issues and needs of people with disabilities. They also support connections at the local level between people with disabilities, their advocates, and the community.
